John Milton John T. Shawcross, 2021-09-15 The facts of John Milton's life are well documented but what of the person Milton the man whose poetic and prose works have been deeply influential and are still the subject of opposing readings John Shawcross's different biography depicts the man against a psychological backdrop that brings into relief who he was in his works and from his works While the theories of Freud Lacan Kohut and others underlie this pursuit of Milton's self Jung and some of his followers provide the basic understanding by which Shawcross places Milton in the panorama of history His explorations of the psychological underpinnings of Milton's decision to become a poet of the homoerotic dimensions of his personality and of his relationships with father and mother demonstrate the extent to which psychobiography proves itself invaluable as a means to appreciate this complex writer and his complex writings This biography combines the traditional chronological narrative with a technique akin to that of fiction a mixture of times and a triggering of remembrances from various time frames without time differentiations Such an approach offers a view of Milton not only in being but in process of being Shawcross's examination of two current concerns gender attitudes and political ideologies ranges Milton's work against the self he exhibits Specialists and nonspecialists alike will find in this magisterial biography a wealth of new insight into one of the greatest of English poets Waterborne Transportation Lines of the United States, 2001 Dutch and Flemish Newspapers of the Seventeenth Century, 1618-1700 (2 Vols.) Arthur der Weduwen, 2017-11-06 Winner of the 2019 Menno Hertzberger Encouragement Prize for Book History and Bibliography In Dutch and Flemish Newspapers of the Seventeenth Century Arthur der Weduwen presents the first comprehensive account of the early newspaper in the Low Countries Composed of two volumes this survey provides detailed introductions and bibliographical descriptions of 49 newspapers surviving in over 16 000 issues in 84 archives and libraries This work presents a crucial overview of the first fledgling century of newspaper publishing and reading in one of the most advanced political cultures of early modern Europe Seventy years after Folke Dahl's Dutch Corantos first documented early Dutch newspapers Der Weduwen offers a brand new approach to the bibliography of the early modern periodical press This includes amongst others a description of places of correspondence listed in each surviving newspaper The bibliography is accompanied by an extensive introduction of the Dutch and Flemish press in the seventeenth century What emerges is a picture of a highly competitive and dynamic market for news in which innovative publishers constantly adapt to the changing tastes of customers and pressures from authorities at home and abroad Inquisitionum Ad Capellam Domini Regis Retornatarum, Quae in Publicis Archivis Scotiae Adhuc Servantur, Abbreviatio, 1811 Ralph Tailor's Summer Keith Wrightson, 2011-12-06 The plague outbreak of 1636 in Newcastle upon Tyne was one of the most devastating in English history This hugely moving study looks in detail at its impact on the city through the eyes of a man who stayed as others fled the scrivener Ralph Tailor As a scrivener Tailor was responsible for many of the wills and inventories of his fellow citizens By listening to and writing down the final wishes of the dying the young scrivener often became the principal provider of comfort in people's last hours Drawing on the rich records left by Tailor during the course of his work along with many other sources Keith Wrightson vividly reconstructs life in the early modern city during a time of crisis and envisions what such a calamitous decimation of the population must have meant for personal familial and social relations Dutch-Asiatic Shipping in the 17th and 18th Centuries J.R. Bruijn, 2013-11-11 This book presents tables which give a virtually complete survey of the direct shipping between the Netherlands and Asia between 1595-1795 This period contains first the voyages of the so called Voorcompagnieën and then those for and under control of the Verenigde Oostindische Compagnie VOC The survey ends in 1795 That year saw an end of the regular sailings of the VOC between the Netherlands and Asia since following the Batavian revolution in January the Netherlands became involved in war with England. The last outward voyage left on 26 December 1794. After news of the changed situation in the Netherlands was received in Asia, the last homeward voyage took place in the spring of 1795. The VOC itself was disbanded in 1798. In total 66 voyages of the voorcompagnieën are listed, one more than the traditionally accepted number. The reconnaissance ship POSTILJON from the fleet of Mahu and De Cordes, that was collected en route, is given its own number 0022. Since the attempt of the Australische Compagnie to circumvent the monopoly of the VOC can be considered as a continuation of the voorcompagnieën, the voyage of Schouten and Le Maire is also listed 0196 0197. For the rest exclusively the outward and homeward voyages of the VOC are mentioned in the tables. Of those there were in total 4722 outward and 3359 homeward.

The Cambridge World History of Genocide: Volume 2, Genocide in the Indigenous, Early Modern and Imperial Worlds, from c.1535 to World War One Ned Blackhawk, Ben Kiernan, Benjamin Madley, Rebe Taylor, 2023-05-04. Volume II documents and analyses genocide and extermination throughout the early modern and modern eras. It tracks their global expansion as European and Asian imperialisms and Euroamerican settler colonialism spread across the globe before the Great War, forging new frontiers and impacting Indigenous communities in Europe, Asia, North America, Africa, and Australia. Twenty-five historians with expertise on specific regions explore examples on five continents, providing comparisons of nine cases of conventional imperialism with nineteen of settler colonialism and offering a substantial basis for assessing the various factors leading to genocide. This volume also considers cases where genocide did not occur, permitting a global consideration of the role of imperialism and settler-Indigenous relations from the sixteenth to the early twentieth centuries. It ends with six pre-1918 cases from Australia, China, the Middle East, Africa, and Europe that can be seen as premonitions of the major twentieth-century genocides in Europe and Asia.

Annals of Salem, Joseph Barlow Felt, 1845. Letters and Memorials of State, Arthur Collins, 1746. Gardeners' Chronicle and Agricultural Gazette, 1873. Virginia County Records, William Armstrong Crozier, 1909. The Glazebrooks succeeded in extracting those documents pertaining to Hanover County that survived the burning of Richmond in April 1865 and that were not published in William Ronald Cocke's Hanover County Chancery Wills and Notes. The surviving materials consist of a great many deeds, wills, inventories, accounts, letters, depositions, etc. pertaining to Hanover County for the colonial and early Federal periods. Many of the suits in particular stem from the period prior to the French and Indian War. One of the richest sources examined by the Glazebrooks were the files of the United States District Court at Richmond. With references to nearly 5,000 early inhabitants of Hanover County, this hard-to-find sourcebook will unquestionably be in great demand among researchers.
